

BARROWS HOME GUTTED BY FIRE

THE LADDER TRUCK IN USE: Firemen were able to save the shell of the old home of Herbert C Barrows, but the barn and the shed connecting were destroyed, and the interior of the house is beyond repair.

A fire which started about 4:20 pm Tuesday in the rear of the barn of the old Herbert C Barrows place on Woburn Street, completely destroyed the barn and connecting buildings, and damaged the 260 year old house to the point where it is now beyond the possibility of repair.

The smoke from the burning buildings could be seen for miles and attracted many people who wished to share the excitement. As a result of this, and the cars of 3600 Avco employees leaving about 4:30 pm Wilmington Police had one of the worst traffic jams in their history, on Lowell Street.

The home, which was sold to Avco last December, and which Avco had been planning to convert to some use, possibly as a recreational center, or for office or other use, was for over 60 years the home of the late Herbert C. Barrows, one of Wilmington's most prominent citizens.

The home dated to 1703, or possibly a few years earlier, having been built when Woburn Street was known as 'Sawpit Lane', and was in fact the main highway between Boston and Andover. It was built by a man named Winn.

During Civil War days it was the home of John Perry, blacksmith, and later was the home of his widow and daughter. Mr. Barrows purchased the home from the Perry estate in 1897, for $700, which price included 100 acres of land, including the 70 acres on which Avco now stands, which was sold to Avco 11 years ago for $70,000. Huge dense clouds of smoke pouring from the barn was the first sign of the fire. It was at first believed that spontaneous combustion of old hay could have been the cause, but knowing Wilmington people say that hay which is two or three years old never catches on fire from that cause, and the fire must have started from some other cause.

With Reservations School Board endorses State Aid

The Wilmington School Committee, last night, endorsed the State Aid to Education program, but without the loss of fiscal autonomy. Vice Chairman Glen Connolly presided over a session which debated the merits of S-104 and H-3354, now being considered by the Massachusetts legislature.

The basic reports were by School Superintendent Harold S. Shea, after which Connolly polled the individual members of the school board. Every member present was in favor of the two bills, but with provisions for local fiscal autonomy.

School Costs

Shea told the Board that he expects the 1966 School Budget to be approximately $178,000 greater than the 1965 budget.

There will be a new school, and new teachers, he told the board, because of the increase in the 'pupil load'.

It costs about $370 per year, to educate a child in the Wilmington Schools, Shea told the committee, and each year sees an approximate increase of 5% in school enrollment.

Shea said that 395 new first graders had been enrolled in the Spring Registration, and he expects to have another 100 in the August Registration, making a new class of about 500 first graders, in addition to the 'repeats' and others.

Town Crier starts Fund Meanest Thief stole Relief Clothing

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Crawn, Allston Avenue, are candidates for being the most unfortunate people in Wilmington this year.

Several times a year a family has the misfortune of being 'burned out' and left homeless.

When this happens relief agencies, such as the Wilmington Community Fund and the American Red Cross swing into action, with food and clothing, to assist. This has happened several times in Wilmington during the past year.

When the Crawn family, mother, father, and three children, aged 5, 3 and 2, were burned out, on April 6th, the Wilmington Community Fund and the Red Cross donated food and clothing.

The clothing was neatly washed and packed for storage purposes in the only place available to the Crawn family - the small remaining porch of their home.

And then, on Good Friday, the meanest thief appeared, and stole the clothing, and whatever goods the family had left. They are now destitute.

They have been living with a sister, sleeping on mattresses on the floor of their sister's home. This week they have found an apartment in Winchester, and have moved in, but it is admittedly beyond their means.

How much money will the people of Wilmington donate, to help this family?

The Town Crier will start with a donation of $25.00, which will be deposited in a Special Account in the Mechanics Savings Bank.

Will there be any other donations? Please mail them to the Crawn Account, Mechanics Savings Bank, Wilmington.

Every donation will be acknowledged in the Town Crier, unless otherwise requested.

FOUR AND A HALF POUND LUNKER: Was the catch of George L. Mugford of Lake Street, on the opening day of fishing season. George, who is a foreman for Diamond Crystal, caught this bass off Melzar's beach, in Silver Lake. It measured 19 inches long.

$115,000 LUXURY

For the first time in many years, every single bit of the planting strip on Church Street, between the sidewalk and the street, is raked, and is looking tip top.

Many of the residents of that fine area keep their section of the planting strip in fine condition. Others, at least at times, just don't give a hoot.

But this sudden raking is not necessarily to the credit of the residents of Church Street.

The New England Telephone Company, as a part of the many millions of dollars it is spending to improve service, have put in an underground cable from Wilmington Square to Federal Hill, and the contractor who did the digging has just gone all along Church Street, spread loam over the grass at the planting strips, and raked it to a fine point. It is to be suspected that he may sew some grass seed too.

It is typical of the New England Telephone. Sometimes the company is a little slow, but it always completes any such task thoroughly.

The Telephone Company has its own way of conducting its business, and it is a thorough way.

And, it may surprise people to know, the U.S. Government still classifies the Telephone Company as a luxury.

Last year, the people and businesses of Wilmington paid a 'luxury' tax of $115,050.60 to the U.S. Government, just to have their telephones.

THOUGHTS ON LOWELL STREET

The Board of Selectmen are holding sort of a 'public hearing' tonight, at 8 pm, in the High School Cafeteria, for the purpose of discussing whether or not Lowell Street should be widened.

As with all public hearings, this is not for the purpose of telling the Selectmen what to do, but rather for the purpose of telling the Selectmen what the individuals concerned think of the proposition. It is a chance for the public to be heard.

The Town Crier is in favor of widening Lowell Street. The Federal Government and the State will be paying the actual costs of construction, estimated to be at about $200,000.

A year ago, in the Town Meeting, there was a vote instructing the Selectmen not to use Chapter 90 funds for the widening of Lowell Street. That instruction still stands.

The Town Crier was in favor of that instruction, because it felt that the town should not spend its own money in something that the Federal Government would have to do, and shortly.

Many of the Lowell Street residents who voted in favor of that particular item were voting for a different reason - they feared that the result would be the loss of front walks and lawns, and just more speeding cars on Lowell Street.

Others may have been impelled to vote against the widening because not only would the town be spending money for the construction of Lowell Street, but also to pay for the damages, resulting in the taking of peoples property, to widen the street.

It is that particular thought which should be discussed at this moment.

Whether the construction is done under the auspices of Chapter 90, in which the town pays 25% of the construction costs, or by the Federal and State Secondary Road program, in which the town pays no part of the construction costs, the town has to pay for the 'damages'.

Under the provisions of Chapter 90, the 'damages' are assessed against the town, and the town just has to pay, automatically. Payment is made, without the benefit of a special article, in the next annual town meeting, at least most of the time.

The Town Crier doesn't know of any such provision in the case of 'damages' in the Federal Secondary Road program.

The Town Crier believes that there would be, in the course of events, an article in the warrant for an annual meeting, calling for the appropriation of the money to pay for the damages.

In other words there would be a difference in procedure.

BOB EVANS

In an account of a meeting in last week's Town Crier, this paper reported that Bob Evans of North Wilmington had been told that he was serving on the Planning Board for the sole purpose of 'what he could get out of it'.

If ever there was a misstatement, that was it.

Mr. Evans has unselfishly served on the Planning Board for about ten years. He has given the board and the town much, from his wisdom. He has never asked for a thing for himself, in any official way.

Admittedly Mr. Evans is at times a long talker, a locquacious man who can tire out his opponents and talk around almost any subject. But in any matter in which he could have used his influence as a board member for his own personal advantage he has remained silent, and when necessary removed himself from the Committee room. This not by request, but because of his innate sense of justice and courtesy.

Not because of the events of a week ago, but because the Town Manager some months ago decided to reduce the Planning Board to five members, Mr. Evans will not be reappointed when his term of office expires in July. It is possible that the Town Manager will appoint him to some other post.

Wherever he serves, there can be no doubt but that he is a man who has the good of Wilmington as his guiding light.

WATCH THE THERMOMETER! Ladies of the Wilmington League of Women Voters, in order to dramatize their annual fund appeal, have a thermometer on which the color will change as money is pledged by friends and businessmen of the community. Right now the thermometer reads $15, and the ladies hope to see it at $505.

TOWN NOTES

That surprise snow storm, Sunday afternoon, is one of the things that we just get to expect, in New England. We can recall one like that, in the middle of May, back in 1917, which covered the peas in the back yard garden.

Peas

Do you have your peas planted yet. Every good New England back-yard gardener has his in by the 15th of April, along with the seeds for next springs parsnip feast.

And, of course, here in Wilmington, the first backyard gardener to have a feed of peas, grown by himself, each year, wins the highly coveted but wholly mythical Town Crier Golden Pea Spoon.

Hard Luck Harold

Harold E. Smith of Woburn Street is known to many people of this town as 'Pump' Smith -- this to distinguish him from the other Smiths of Wilmington, such as his late brother 'Sunshine' and the one and only 'Agreeable'.

Harold has several acres of land, off Woburn Street, which have sort of, but not exactly been approved for a site for the so-called Garden Apartments.

The Planning Board won't approve of Garden Apartments until there is an adequate building code.

There would have been a building code, some years ago, of which the Planning Board would have approved, it is believed except that some of the Town Fathers got busy at the wrong moment, and called for a vote on the Building Code just a little too soon. It was a political move, but it killed the then Building Code Committee.

Since then there has been, in the last couple of years, a new committee, chairmaned by Bob Leahy of Woburn Street. It has been stalled on dead center for the past several months because it could not get a needed additional member.

Finally, to break the impasse, Harold volunteered. He could not, of course, work on any part of the code that was going to do with Garden Apartments, but he could help on other parts, and get the thing moving.

So Harold attended his first meeting, last week.

And he got sick.

Had to go to the hospital -- Winchester Hospital. He's there now, up and about a little bit, but still a sick man.

CHURCH UNION CONSULTATION Report by Rev. Robert E. Sanders

In 1962, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Stated Clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., preached a sermon in the Episcopal Cathedral in San Francisco as a guest of Bishop James Pike. The occasion was the annual assembly of the National Council of Churches in the U.S.A. The sermon proposed a union (immediate negotiations toward union) of the United Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Methodists, and United Church of Christ.

Subsequently, and as a result of what came to be known as the Blake-Pike Proposal, these four major church bodies officially appointed delegations to enter into a study toward such a union. The name of the study turned out to be 'The Consultation On Church Union (COCU)'.

There have now been three annual meetings of the COCU, which includes scholars and statesmen from what has now increased to six major denominations: Disciples of Christ and Evangelical United Brethren have joined officially. The third meeting, a week long, just terminated last week in Louisville, Kentucky.

The results of their studies, lectures, and negotiations is always published. There is now a little paperback (A Reflection Book) for 50¢ called 'Where We Are In Church Union', which brings the history, ideas, resolution, continuing problems of the COCU up to the meetings at Louisville. This paperback is now available at the church office of the Congregational Church in Wilmington.

The pastor of the Congregational Church in Wilmington begins a sermon series on the subjects being discussed by COCU this coming Sunday, April 25th. He will preach on such topics as The Nature of the Church - The Ministry of the Church - The Sacraments of the Church - The Mission of the Church - The Oneness of the Church.

FIRESIDE FELLOWSHIP PRESENTS EASTER DRAMA

'Christ in the Concrete City', a modern play, will be presented by the Fireside Fellowship Group on April 25th, at 7:30 pm in the Congregation Church, Wilmington.

Cast members are Joanne Miller, Alan Green, James Downing, Charles Ridley, and Ronald Thomas.

The play, written by British dramatist, P.W. Turner, deals with the Passion of Jesus Christ from three view points. First, it is the story of something that actually happened in history; second, it relates the universal significance of the Passion speaking timelessly to all men; and finally it deals with the Passion, Crucifixion, and Resurrection as personal events speaking timelessly to the individual.

The performance will conclude the celebration of this Holy season.

Historical Society organized in December

The Wilmington Historical Society was formally organized last December to preserve historical objects and property in Wilmington, and to promote public interest in the history of the Town.

The Historical Society was established as a benevolent and charitable corporation. This means that no earnings or assets of the Society can be used to benefit the members or any private parties. As organized, the Historical Society is intended as a perpetual corporation. But, if the organization were dissolved for any reason, the assets and property of the Society would pass in trust to the Wilmington Public Library...and the Library Trustees could decide how to apply any funds obtained to the support and improvement of the Public Library.

Previous efforts to arouse interest in a Town historical organization had failed. A few years ago, a special committee was appointed by the Town Meeting to look into this question, and to decide how to dispose of valuable old records in the custody of the Town. No action came from this committee, partly because of the problem of financing such a group. Stanley Webber and Attny. Joe Courtney donated their time and services to cover the cost of setting up the New Historical Society.

The donation of the Middlesex Canal property was the first major gift to the Historical Society. Mrs. George Webber's grant is substantial -- for its estimated value is several thousand dollars.

Mrs. Webber's gift would allow the Society to erect a museum and headquarters on the land, as long as it did not encroach on the canal proper.

Ultimately, the directors of the Historical Society hope to provide safe custody for many records and historical objects now held by private citizens of the Town. Naturally, the Society welcomes any further gifts, and also invites membership applications -- which could be the principal source of support for the Wilmington Historical Society.

WILMINGTON FORD HOCKEY CAPTURES FIRST PLACE IN MERRIMAC HOCKEY LEAGUE

Wilmington Ford's Hockey team with a record of 13 wins, 6 losses, and 4 ties, captured first place in the Merrimac Valley Amateur Hockey League. This marks the third straight successful season for the team. This is the third title in three years for Coach Bob Gillies' Wilmington Club. In the two previous years, the Club has won the 128 Industrial League Title.

Three team members made the Leagues' first team All Stars: Dameron Hurlburt, who finished second in the leagues individual scoring race; Ben Sands, a clever and capable defenseman; and Wilmington's hard hitting defenseman, Carl Backman Jr.

Coach Bob Gillies has announced that he plans to make a few changes next year. He will be looking for a couple more good scorers and another thumping defenseman to go with the best trio of defensemen in the League.

TOWN OF WILMINGTON

To the Citizens of Wilmington: The Board of Selectmen have scheduled a public hearing at 8 pm on April 22 at the High School Cafeteria for the purpose of giving the citizens an opportunity to be heard on the proposed Lowell Street widening from Interstate 93 to Route 38. The State Department of Public Works has advised the Town that they have programmed this improvement as a Federal aid secondary project for the calendar year 1965 subject to the availability of funds. Federal aid secondary projects are financed 50% by the State and 50% by the Federal government with the participating municipality paying for land damages and utility relocations. It is estimated that this project will cost in the vicinity of $200,000.

Since this project obviously affects the immediate abutters, both residential and commercial property owners, as well as the entire community, all citizens who are interested in this project are urged to attend to present their views to the Board of Selectmen.

JOINT MEETING OF SELECTMEN AND HOUSING AUTHORITY

The Board of Selectmen and the Wilmington Housing Authority are to meet jointly, in the Town Hall, next Monday, at 9:15 pm for the purpose of electing a new member of the Housing Authority, to replace Ralph Peterson, resigned.

SCHOOL BOARD
(Fr. Fr. Pg)

The Poverty Program High School Sub Master Harold Driscoll read a prepared report which relates to the Federal Poverty Program.

Driscoll noted reports that Massachusetts is supposed to be the 7th wealthiest state in the union with a high bank deposit average, and commented 'And we're applying for a Poverty Program!'

Wilmington falls in the Metropolitan District, Driscoll said, and as such is rated 'C'.

Families can have a maximum income of $3000, in order for a pupil to be eligible for this aid, Driscoll told the Committee, and added that there is a clause which makes it possible to accept families who would be in a poverty situation, even though the income was above the $3000.

The children to be chosen to participate in this program will be picked from the list of new registrations, this spring, Driscoll said - the children who will start school in the fall of 1965.

He has been in contact with the clergymen of the town to help screen the families.

If an application is approved, Driscoll said, the Federal Government will extend the money in advance. He estimated that there could be a budget of $7000, in this program. The Federal Government pays 90% of the costs, and the Town 10% of the costs.

PROJECT HEAD START
A Report by Harold Driscoll

We, in Wilmington, plan to conduct two Head Start Projects of approximately fifteen (15) each, this summer, under the auspices of the Office of Economic Opportunity -- Project Head Start.

We are screening the town with the help of the clergymen of all churches, the Salvation Army, the Welfare Board, and the Community Chest. The children selected are coming from the various sections of town and are in the five and six year old group registered to enter first grade in September, 1965. They will be transported to the school by bus since this has been deemed the safest, most feasible, and most economical plan.

The classes will be conducted in our new, modern high school with full use of all its facilities and recreational areas.

Each child will be given a complete physical examination. Vision, hearing, speech, neurological development, emotional development, teeth, and nutrition -- all will be thoroughly checked and remedial care will be given where needed. Immunization programs against polio, tetanus, diphtheria, measles, and smallpox will be set up if necessary. Follow-up will make sure that all necessary drugs, eye glasses, hearing aids, braces and the like are provided for the child requiring any or all of them.

Mothers of the children will be invited to attend forums conducted by doctors, dentists, nurses, school psychologists, home economists and other whose aim will be to help them to improve the health and environment of their children within their means.

It is our goal to give these children an improved social outlook by exposing them to classroom techniques, recreational areas, toys, games, arts and crafts, gym equipment and field trips. We hope to show them the doctor, dentist, teacher, fireman, policeman and others in roles which will instill respect, not fear.

The children will take part in supervised outdoor play activities, indoor creative play, arts and crafts work, music, story telling and go on outings and field trips, all designed to improve their understanding of themselves in relation to their families, their school, and their community.

The classes will meet five days a week for six weeks, from 8 am to 12 noon. A light snack consisting of milk or juice and cookies will be served mid-morning. When these children enter first grade in the fall, provision will be made for hot lunches where needed.

We have an excellent staff of trained personnel - some paid.

OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER
CALL FOR BIDS

The Town Manager will receive bids at the office of the Town Manager, Town Hall, Wilmington, Mass. until 11:00 a.m., Friday April 30, 1965, when they will be publicly opened and read for Water Pipe for the Water Dept. Detailed specifications may be obtained at the office of the Town Manager, Town Hall, Wilmington, Mass. The Town of Wilmington reserves the right to reject any bid, or all bids, or any part thereof deemed not to be in the best interest of the Town of Wilmington.

some volunteer -- dedicated people who love children and who thoroughly enjoy working with them opening doors to the future through understanding, learning and recreation.

Follow-up will be an important part of our project to make sure that parents understand the needs of their children and try to meet them. We hope to establish rapport with the families of the children enrolled in these classes so that the good work initiated in the program will carry over into their homes.

We have had a great migration of low income families into Wilmington due to their displacement through urban renewal and redevelopment. Many of these families have been obliged to rent summer camps as year round homes. Many of the families are large; most of the living quarters are cramped.

The population explosion has necessitated the building of a new school approximately every two years, placing a heavy burden on our taxpayers. Project Head Start provides an opportunity for the culturally deprived child to enter upon his formal education with a better understanding of himself, an acceptance of others socially, and an improved outlook on learning.

We pledge to do all in our power to successfully meet the challenge presented by this project, to make any corrective changes necessary in our program, and to devote ourselves to improving the lot of these children.

May I conclude this narrative by saying, 'God love and bless all of you wonderful people for the work you are doing to make it possible for the culturally and socially deprived child to get a 'head start' in life.'

More on Barrows Fire

THE BARN IN FLAMES: With smoke visible for miles, the barn of the Herbert Barrows home is shown in flames, in the first part of the conflagration.

The fire was an inferno by the time that the Avco and Wilmington Fire Departments arrived, and the first efforts were devoted to the task of trying to save the house. The efforts of the firemen had some good effect, but the interior of the 260 year old building is damaged beyond repair.

Fire Chief Arthur Boudreau estimates the damage at $10,000. Avco reports that there was insurance.

Wilmington's fire station was covered by equipment from Tewksbury while all available apparatus was at the scene of the blaze.

Reading and Burlington sent equipment, including the Burlington Civil Defense electric truck, which was used to provide light after the evening had progressed.

Hot embers from the fire poured onto the Avco parking lots, and more than a few cars were reported damaged. Avco police pushed some of the nearest parked cars to other places, away from the heat of the blaze.

The house had been empty since Mrs. Barrows sold it to Avco six months ago. She is now living in a home nearby, on Woburn street.

A WHIRLWIND OF HOT EMBERS: Formed by heat convection, in the nearest Avco Parking Lot. Avco Police pushed the nearest cars away, leaving an open spot for the hot embers to dance in a circle.

A TRAFFIC JAM TO END ALL TRAFFIC JAMS: Was one result of the fire, as 3600 Avco cars joined the hundreds of would be spectators who were being shooed away by the Wilmington Police.

The smoky air, in the background, near Odd Fellows Hall, is from the fire.

Ruth Kitchener Republican Chairman

Mrs Ruth Kitchener of Aldrich Road was elected the new Chairman of the Wilmington Republican Town Committee, Tuesday evening, in a regular meeting of the Committee at Sanborn's on Lowell Street.

Mrs. Kitchener has been the Finance Chairman for the past twelve years, and succeeds Mrs Wavie Drew, who resigned the town chairmanship after holding that office for 16 years.

One of Mrs Kitchener's first acts was to appoint Miss Libby Sanborn as Finance Chairman of the Wilmington Committee. Miss Sanborn gave a report of her recent trip to Washington.

Mrs Kitchener and Miss Sanborn will be attending breakfast today, at the Golden Dome, in Boston, as a part of the State Finance Drive.

A rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs Drew for her many years of service to the Town Committee.

Roland J Wood was appointed Vice Chairman of the Committee. Mrs Joseph Slater was appointed Secretary, and Lloyd C Bender was appointed to the Executive Board.

RALPH ZWICKER IN MARINE ASSAULT EXERCISE

Marine Lance Corporal Ralph Zwicker, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Zwicker, Jr., of 4 Davis Road, Wilmington is taking part in Exercise Quick Kick VII, with Company 'I', Third Battalion, Sixth Marine Regiment, Second Marine Division which is a joint services operation on Vieques Island, off the southeastern coast of Puerto Rico.

D-Day had been set for April 9th, with air strikes by Marine Corps and Air Force aircraft starting at 6 am, along with shore bombardment by naval ships to 'soften up enemy positions.' Paratroopers were airdropped at 7 am, by planes from the Tactical Air Command and Military Air Transport Service.

Propose Cluster Zoning

The Planning Board, Tuesday night, heard a proposal for a housing development in Wilmington which, it was hoped, would be able to use 'Cluster Zoning' instead of the type of zoning prevalent in this town.

'Cluster Zoning' involves building houses closer together, in groups, and leaving larger areas of vacant land adjacent, to be used as community playgrounds and/or parks. It has been tried in a few communities in the United States, and somewhat resembles a type of development which is common in Great Britain.

The proposal came from a Mr. Barca of Winchester, who represents a group which has an option on the Allen Farm, about 60 acres of land on both sides of Maple Meadow Brook, and running up to the Allen house on Woburn Street.

Mr. Barca was told that there is no present zoning law in Wilmington which would allow 'cluster' building, and that at best it would take six months or a year to get such a zoning law passed. He was told that the people who are hoping to have Garden Apartment buildings have been waiting for two years now, for proper zoning laws.

Barca told the board that he probably would return with proposals for a regular type subdivision for the land.

Other Plans

The board was meeting on an 'off' Tuesday, in an effort to discuss other business than real estate developments, but spent most of the night discussing just that.

They discussed plans for Maple Manor, an 18 acre proposed development off Federal Street near Maple Meadow Brook, which would have 29 house lots. Later in the evening, while reviewing the plans, the board became alarmed at the possibilities of flooding from Maple Meadow Brook, and decided to tell the Town Engineer to discuss these possibilities with the engineer who had prepared the plans.

The board also spent some time discussing proposed plans for land adjacent to the Woburn Street

School, in which it is proposed to have the drainage cross Marcia Road at the point of the Woburn Street pedway.

Arthur Smith of Federal Street, one of the developers, told the Planning Board that there is an eight inch tile pipe under the Woburn Street pedway, draining into three catch basins which are not draining anywhere, and that the tiled pipe is already filled with sand. He wanted to replace the tiled pipe with pipe of a larger size, and lead the drain into the swamp below Marcia Road.

This would have involved an approval of plans for the land now owned by Mr. Tonnello, of Tewksbury, formerly owned by Mr. De Carolis, and this the board was reluctant to do. The Planning Board voted to notify Mr. Smith that they could not approve of his plans until the Tonnello plans were first in proper order.

Regional Meeting

The members of the Planning Board will attend a meeting of Region 5A, Massachusetts Planning Boards, to be held at Thompson's, in North Reading, on May 12th.

Planning Consultants

There have been seven applications from Planning Consultants who wish to participate in the Planning that the board is to have during the next two years, as a result of the vote of the Town Meeting last spring, and the donation of Planning money by five of Wilmington's industrial firms.

The Planning Board will meet early next Tuesday, to begin interviewing some of these consultants. No discussion other than this type will be held in next Tuesday's meeting, and it is possible that the board will again meet, on the Friday following, to meet with other applicants. The board hopes to meet with all applicants as soon as possible.

Only four members of the Planning Board were present for the meeting, Chairman Rounds, James Banda, Bob Evans and James Miceli.

MORE TOWN NOTES (Fr. Pg. Two)

Not Wilmington, Thank You

The Boston papers, a week ago, had stories and pictures of three youths who had jumped the fence at the Deer Island Prison, and enjoyed three quarters of an hour of freedom, before being rounded up by a police dog and an alert off-duty patrolman.

One of the youths, according to one Boston paper, was named Collins, and came from Jaquith Road, Wilmington.

'Tain't So, say the local Gen-darmes. Collins never lived on Jaquith Road, or any other place in Wilmington.

Another Blueberry Bush

Years ago a Town Manager of Wilmington purchased a couple of hundred replicas of the Town Seal, to put on town owned vehicles. The seals were made by some company down in New Jersey, and the resulting reproduction of the Whitefield Elm was promptly dubbed a 'Blueberry Bush' by irreverent residents of Wilmington.

Since then, some Town Managers have 'overlooked' the use of the 'Blueberry Bush', while others feel that because the town has spent the money, the seal should be used on the side of all town owned vehicles.

TM Jerry Bouchard is one of those. He says that the town spent a dollar apiece for the seals, and he intends to use them.

The latest vehicle to be sporting one is an old Plymouth sedan, which was formerly the property of the Welfare Department, and is now being used by the Superintendent of Public Buildings, Fred Jaeschke. It was transferred for a $200 value, when new cars were bought recently. Jerry says he isn't going to paint the Plymouth an Osage Orange, as he has the other town vehicles painted.

Little (?) Boys

Little (?) boys have been at work all through the town. In the past two weeks 30 mail boxes on Woburn Street have been damaged in visigs that have extended over several

TM's Plans for No. Wilmington

TOWN MANAGER GERRY BOUCHARD: Seeks to make an Industrial Park type of development, now, or in the future, in North Wilmington, between the new highway and the Portland Branch of the B&M. The diagonal lines shows the area that the Town Manager would like to have changed to Industrial. Names of land owners are in Italics.

Town Manager Gerald Bouchard is hoping to rezone a portion of the vacant land, between Route 93 and the Portland Branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad into Industrially Zoned land.

He has hopes of doing in this area something akin to that which the Town Crier has been proposing for some years in the South Industrial Zone, and he wants to see the re-zoning accomplished before somebody starts building homes in the area.

Bouchard wants to have a buffer zone between the residences now in North Wilmington, and south of his proposed industrial area, and the industrial area itself.

Part of the land recently purchased by Monte Green would be rezoned to industrial, if the TM's plans are materialized.

He would have two streets which 'exist' only on paper, north of Dorothy Avenue, taken off the town maps, and this area become a buffer zone, south of the industrial zone.

Part of the area is already so zoned but cannot be reached by industry, for the lack of proper access.

Cagy Betting

Larry Carr of Wildwood Street is a carnival operator, and every summer he opens his business by operating his carnival for the Rotary Club of Wilmington. The proceeds go towards improving the Rotary Park, which is opposite the old Walker School and Police Station.

This year Larry has a new gadget, which can be described as a take-off on an old garden swing, the kind in which the young ladies sat and motivated by pressure of their feet.

In this new gadget, which is more like a cage than a swing, and if a passenger is sufficiently co-ordinated, in a muscular sort of way, he can make a complete circle -- go right up and over, and come down on the other side -- but it takes more than just good looks or luck. It takes a full sense of co-ordination.

Two experts, Jim Jillett and Don Currier, both High School sophomores, have put the cage swings over the top 120 times each, according to some of their admirers, who add that they wouldn't want to be around when either of the boys woke up next morning.

Bob Sumberg, who among other things is President of Rotary, and a Vice President at Avco, tried the swing the other night, and didn't get anywhere. As far as Bob was concerned, he didn't do much better than the young ladies in crinolines, back in the days when grandmother was a young lady.

Bob told Ralph Swanson, of Raffi and Swanson about the swing, and the conversation led the two men into a betting mood, (and bets).

Now they are scheduled to have a contest, Friday evening, in the Rotary Park.

Each of them is going to (1) Make the swing 'loop the loop', and (2) Do it more than the other fellow.

Proud Mama

Maybe George Gray Jr. won't like this, but he shouldn't be so smart. George, who lives on Clark Street, and used to work for the Eagle Can Co., up and joined the Navy a few weeks ago, signing up with Recruiter Dick Storms, of Main Street.

When George took the mental tests it turned out that he was one of the smartest boys to join the Navy in a long long time, at least from these parts.

Instead of sending George to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station he was sent to San Diego, California, where he sat around while the Navy collected a few more men of the Genius Variety, to put into a class together. And now George is a Recruit Petty Officer, a temporary rank which lasts only during the six weeks of basic training.

Anyway, Mrs. Gray (Frances to her friends) is almost bursting with pride.

Overweight

Chief of Police, Paul Lynch, is home, safe and sound from the hospital, (as of last Friday) and he is down to 214 pounds.

His doctor says, we are told, that he has to get down to 190.

What's he going to do with his old suits?

Sandra Bryant is Bride

At a three-thirty ceremony on Easter Sunday afternoon, Miss Sandra May Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. Bryant of Park Street, became the bride of Paul Cargill, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cargill of North Street.

Father Mackin officiated before the altar of St. Thomas' Church which was adorned with Easter Lillies and white roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an ankle-length gown of white chantilly lace with a high button-down-the-back bodice and long tapered sleeves. Her short veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with a large white orchid.

Mrs. Frances Sacco, sister of the groom served as matron of honor and wore a gown of Nile green with a matching headdress. She carried a cascade of painted daisies.

Serving as bridesmaids were Barbara J. Bryant, sister of the bride; Geraldine Lee and Mrs. Cynthia MacAndrews close friends of the bride and Elizabeth Jacobus, the bride's cousin. Bridesmaids were attired in gowns of yellow, pink, aqua, and blue satin, styled like that of the matron of honor. They wore matching veils and carried floral cascades.

Thomas Cargill served his cousin as best man while Robert Bryant, brother of the bride and Ronald Whitehead, Robert O'Brien and Richard Sacco, friends of the groom were included among the ushers.

A reception was held at the Elks Home in Tewksbury following the ceremony where guests from New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, Weymouth, Rockland, Roxbury, Northboro, Carver, Dorchester, Hyannis, and Wilmington congratulated the couple.

A lovely three-tiered wedding cake formed the centerpiece for the appropriately decorated head table. Nancy Jacobus, cousin of the bride was in charge of the guest book and the Stardust Band provided music for dancing.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding a beige frock trimmed with rhinestones. She wore green accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother was attired in a pink dress with deeper pink accessories. She wore a white orchid.

Miss Bryant was educated in Everett and Wilmington schools and is a member of the Everett Order of Rainbow Girls and the Wilmington Methodist Church. Until recently she was employed by the Pine Ridge Cleaners on Middlesex Avenue.

Mr. Cargill was educated in Medford and is presently a member of the Navy, stationed at Quonsett Point, Rhode Island.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Cargill chose an eggshell suit with pink accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Following a motor trip through New England, the couple will reside in Coventry, Rhode Island.
